

Availability Report: Miyan Williams, Jaxon Smith-Njigba Out Against Spartans

Ohio State will have to wait until after the off week to see an important pair of offensive players return, as running back Miyan Williams is listed as unavailable against Michigan State while wide receiver Jaxon Smith-Njigba remains out.

In addition to Williams and Smith-Njigba, Ohio State's offense will be without wide receiver Kamryn Babb and tight end Joe Royer, and offensive lineman Enokk Vimahi is the lone game-time decision.

On defense, Ohio State will welcome back cornerback Cameron Brown after he missed the last two games, though cornerback Jordan Hancock remains unavailable in addition to defensive ends Tyler Friday and Omari Abor, linebacker Teradja Mitchell and cornerback Lloyd McFarquhar.

Running back Evan Pryor and linebacker Mitchell Melton remain out with season-ending injuries.
