Dwayne Haskins and Terry McLaurin set career highs, Joe Burrow won his first game and Denzel Ward sealed a victory with his first interception of the season in an eventful week for former Ohio State football standouts.

- Despite losing 31-17 to the Ravens, Haskins set career highs with 32 completions on 45 attempts for 314 yards, breaking previous highs of 21 completions, 37 attempts, and 261 yards. Though Haskins did not throw a touchdown, he ran in his first rushing score of his career.

- Meanwhile, Burrow led the Bengals to their first win of the season and the first of his career. The former Ohio State signal caller Burrow threw for 300 yards on 25-of-36 passing against the Jaguars and became the first rookie in NFL history to throw for 300 or more yards in three straight games.
- Ward made plays all over the field in the Browns' 49-38 victory over the Cowboys, recording four solo tackles, one pass deflection and one interception. Ward's first pick of the season came with Dallas driving down 11 with 1:42 left and the ball at the Cleveland 8-yard line on first-and-goal.

- Eli Apple was activated from the Panthers' injured reserve after a three-game stint to start the season for a foot/ankle injury, but he suffered a hamstring injury on special teams that forced him to miss the rest of the game in a 31-21 win over the Cardinals.
- Austin Mack was activated from the Giants' practice squad on Saturday, but then New York decided not to play him against the Rams on Sunday, so he has still yet to make his debut as an undrafted free agent.

Packers.
