

ESPN's College GameDay Headed To Eugene For OSU vs. Oregon

Just in case Ohio State's week seven matchup with new Big Ten foe Oregon couldn't get more exciting, ESPN's College GameDay show is heading to Eugene, Ore., for the matchup. GameDay, which previews one of the biggest college football games of the week, will preview the matchup between the two top-10 undefeated teams.

The Buckeyes and Ducks, who have been widely accepted as the two biggest favorites to win the Big Ten Championship, each team will look to establish itself as the leader of the conference in the matchup.

College GameDay last went to an Ohio State game in 2023 for the Buckeyes' 30-24 loss to Michigan. GameDay visited the Buckeyes two other times in 2023, once for the team's 17-14 win over Notre Dame and another time for the team's 20-12 win over Penn State.

The Buckeyes and Ducks will square off in primetime at 7:30 p.m. on NBC on Oct. 12.
