Munger was with the Buckeyes for two seasons, one of which was the 2014 national championship-winning year, totaling five tackles in 21 games played during his two years with the program.

He was a four-star recruit out of Shaker Heights High School, but after two years of college football, he was forced to retire in 2016 due to blood clot issues. He enrolled at Ohio State in 2013 but was forced to redshirt his true freshman season when he was diagnosed with a pulmonary embolism in his lungs.
