

Ohio State Football Season Tickets On Sale Monday, Flex Plans Coming In June

Full season ticket packages will be available to the general public starting Monday, May 13.

In an attempt to make Ohio State football game days more accessible to more fans, the athletic department will offer flexible ticketing packages for the first time ever, with the first one going on sale June 17.

“We understand this new ticket marketplace and that fans want options,” Diana Sabau, deputy director of athletics, said. “We have inventory and we want to respond to the needs of Buckeye Nation. We realize it can be difficult to commit to a full season ticket, so we want to provide numerous ticket buying alternatives to make Ohio State games more accessible to more fans.”

Full season ticket packages for east side stadium seats will go on sale online Monday at <http://go.osu.edu/FBTix>.

The flexible, three- and four-game ticketing plans, which will not require a Buckeye Club membership, will be available for purchase in June.

The new, flexible ticket plan options for the 2019 football season include the following:

Buckeye Flex Pass

- 100 percent digital plan with seat location sent to your mobile phone the Friday before the game
- A unique seat location for each game, ensuring various viewpoints/experiences for the games
- A limited number of four-game packages priced at $249
- Includes Florida Atlantic, Miami, Michigan State and Maryland games
- On sale June 17

Rush Plan

- A unique seat location for each game
- Customers will know seat locations prior to purchasing the plan
- Full ticket management options (mobile entry, transfer to friends, post for sale on Ohio State TicketExchange)
- Three-game packages priced at $327
- Includes Miami, Maryland and Wisconsin games
- On sale June 24

Blitz Plan

- A unique seat location for each game
- Customers will know seat locations prior to purchasing the plan
- Full ticket management options (mobile entry, transfer to friends, post for sale on Ohio State TicketExchange)

- Three-game packages priced at $297
- Includes Florida Atlantic, Cincinnati and Michigan State games
- On sale June 24

Single game tickets for the 2019 season will go on sale in July, while supplies last, and the exact date is to be determined.
