

Ohio State-Iowa To Kick Off At 3:30 P.M. On CBS

The game time for Ohio State's Week 6 matchup against Iowa has been revealed.

After a primetime game against Michigan State on the road this weekend, the Buckeyes will come back to Ohio Stadium for a 3:30 p.m. kickoff against the Hawkeyes that will be televised on CBS.

The last time Osu faced off against Iowa was on Oct. 22, 2022, in a 54-10 win when C.J. Stroud was 20 of 30 passing with 286 yards and four touchdowns to one interception with each of Julian Fleming, Emeka Egbuka, Marvin Harrison Jr. and Mitch Rossi catching a touchdown pass.

TreVeyon Henderson was the leading rusher in the game with 11 carries for 38 yards while the Buckeyes defense forced six turnovers on three interceptions and three fumble recoveries.

Ohio State leads the all-time series against Iowa with a 47-15 advantage with three ties included, but the Buckeyes win streak is just one with the Hawkeyes last win coming on Nov. 4, 2017, when they beat OSU 55-24 in a game that J.T. Barrett threw four interceptions.

Before that, the Buckeyes will play their first Big Ten game of the season against the Spartans in East Lansing at 7 p.m. in a game that will be aired only on Peacock on Sept. 28.

The only other game time officially revealed for the rest of the Buckeyes schedule is the noon kickoff against Michigan on FOX on Nov. 30.
