

Ohio State-Marshall Game To Kick Off At Noon On FOX

The game time for Ohio State's matchup against Marshall on Sept. 21 has been revealed.

After an off week, the Buckeyes (2-0) will match up against the Thundering Herd (1-1) at noon with the game being televised on FOX, making them the game of the week for Big Noon Kickoff.

Ohio State has played Marshall twice ever and holds a 2-0 record over the Herd, beating them 24-21 at home on Sept. 11, 2004, and again at Ohio Stadium 45-7 on Sept. 2, 2010.

It will be their last game before Big Ten play starts when Ohio State heads to Michigan State for a Sept. 28 matchup in East Lansing, beginning a conference schedule of nine games.

Currently, the only game times that are known for Ohio State are a noon kickoff against Marshall, a 7:30 p.m. start when the Buckeyes head to Eugene, Ore., to take on their new Big Ten rival Ducks on Oct. 12 and The Game on Nov. 30, which will like always be broadcast on FOX at noon .