

Ohio State-Penn State To Kick Off At Noon On FOX

The game time for Ohio State's matchup against Penn State on Nov. 2 has been revealed.

The Buckeyes' Week 10 game against the No. 3 Nittany Lions is officially slated for Big Noon Kickoff on FOX.

It will be the 38th time the two teams match up against each other when the Buckeyes head to State College, Pa., for a game that could end up being for a spot in the Big Ten Championship.

The last time the two teams saw each other was a 20-12 OSU win on Oct. 21 last season when the Ohio State defense had one of its strongest performances of the season, forcing the Lions to go just 1 for 16 on third downs in the game, the only conversion coming on a late scoring drive in the fourth quarter.

Marvin Harrison Jr. had 11 catches for 162 yards and a touchdown while Kyle McCord was 22 of 35 for 286 yards and a touchdown in that game.

That was the seventh straight win for Ohio State, with Penn State's last win coming in 2016 in James Franklin's third season there, when they won 24-21. In the loss, J.T. Barrett was 28 of 43 for 245 yards and a score, also carrying the ball 17 times for 26 yards.

Before the game against the Nittany Lions, the Buckeyes will still have to get past Nebraska on Saturday at noon on FOX.

The only other game time that has been revealed this season is the noon kickoff against Michigan on Nov. 30.
