

Ohio State's Spring Game Set For April 13, Tickets Go On Sale Friday

Ohio State announced Tuesday that the football team's annual Spring Game is set for a noon kickoff on April 13 from Ohio Stadium, and that tickets go on sale Friday.

General admission tickets are available for $10, while there are limited reserved seating options for $22 and $37, and parking is free, with tickets available for purchase at <https://go.osu.edu/2024springgame>. Broadcast information has not been announced, but it has traditionally aired on the Big Ten Network.

The year's Spring Game - which will cap off Ohio State's spring that includes 15 practices - figures to offer plenty of intrigue, as fans will get their first look at transfer additions such as quarterback Will Howard, running back Quinshon Judkins and safety Caleb Downs, as well as incoming freshman such as quarterbacks Air Noland and Julian Sayin.